It has been an extremely busy but satisfying few days: the children have been delightful and it has been a pleasure to have them all back in school.

I am so grateful for your co-operation, patience and support, you have been wonderful!

All the staff have been working hard to make the transition at the beginning and end of the school day as smooth as possible (it may take us a few days to refine and improve the process) but if I could please ask you to stick, as closely as you can, to the allotted times it would really help.

Just a reminder that for the time being children should only bring a water bottle and lunchbox into school; NO BAGS. We will review this in a couple of weeks, but for the moment we would as parents not to send in school bags.

Mr Matthews

Food Allergies & Dietary Requirements

Providing information about your child's food allergy and medications to the school is critical. You should provide school with a complete list of foods to which your child is allergic.

- The possible symptoms of your child's allergic reaction.
- The treatment that should be administered to your child, and under what circumstances.
- Contact information for emergency medical services, your child's allergist, and you.
- A current picture of your child
- The signature of your child's allergist if your child has any special dietary requirements, for example a vegetarian, it would be helpful to let us know.
